Mobile AV Services

- In response to the popularization of mobile devices and to meet the needs of users with smart phones, browsing and accessing content in NCL's Audio Visual Library has been made easier. In addition to the PC format, in Jan. 2013 mobile web services and a mobile app have been released.
- http://mdava.ncl.edu.tw/

Mobile Version of AV Services

- In addition to preserving subject-based services found on the current website (such as news, new releases, popular picks, daily selections, AV themes, related links, FAQ, and RSS feed), the Library has now added a new service called live online, to broadcast weekly talks on reading.
- Popular OS systems supported, including Apple and Android, along with small screens and touch screens, interactive buttons, and reminders making it a huge improvement of the PC version.
- http://mdava.ncl.edu.tw/

Mobile App for Audio and Video

In addition to a mobile site, an app has also been released that is backed with functionality, allowing for quick selections and personalized services. Not only can users search and browse specific content, and access viewing history, they can also create channel tabs that group personal favorites together, as well as create personalized audio video lists.

Mobile Audio Visual App

Supports popular devices that run on iOS or Android platforms. Users can go to Google play or iTune App store to download NCL's mobile audio-video.

World Digital Library

- 2007, the idea of WDL was first brought up by Dr. Jame Billington of the LOC.
- The principal objectives of the WDL are to:
 - Promote international and intercultural understanding;
 - Expand the volume and variety of cultural content on the Internet
 - Provide resources for educators, scholars, and general audiences;
 - Build capacity in partner institutions to narrow the digital divide within and between countries
- Provide languages in Arab, English, French, Portugal, Spain, Russia and Chinese

2011 Annual Meeting of World Digital Library

- In July, 2008 the National Central Library became a partner institution of the World Digital Library, an organization sponsored by UNESCO and the Library of Congress. NCL then submitted 10 sample images for test run.
- In April 2009, the WDL was officially announced in Paris, France.
- In June 2010, NCL submitted 31 titles of rare books metadata and images.
- In 2012 to 2013, another 60 titles of rare books images was loaded to WDL website.
- In 2014, the total items on the WDL is 101 titles.

Taiwan Public Library Consortium

- ◆The Central Taiwan Public Library Consortium was inaugurated on January 5, 2010. The Consortium uses a unified library collection inquiry system that allows member libraries to function as partners of the consortium to serve the public.
- ◆Patrons will be able to take advantage of all materials available at different consortium libraries with just one library card. In addition to the access of books and audiovisual materials at the National Library of Public Information, patrons can also check out items and benefit from access to relevant resources including the massive digital resources at the National Taichung Library (with e-books, digital multimedia resources, digital learning materials, digital collections and electronic database).

National Central Library Won 2nd Place in Government Digital Service Ability Survey

The information service of the NCL was praised by representatives in the field of digital service. In the 2013 "Investigation on the Digital Service of Benchmark Industries" conducted by Business Next Magazine, the NCL was ranked 2nd in the category of digital service power website of governmental institutions, the only library on the list.

The "iTaiwan" of the NCL won the Award for Excellent Performance

In the "Promotional activity of iTaiwan free wireless internet service" conducted by the Research, Development, and Evaluation Commission of the Executive Yuan (currently renamed as National Development Commission of the Executive Yuan), NCL's iTaiwan free internet service was listed among the top ten most used service institutions and won the "Award for Excellent Performance" by the Executive Yuan.
